

COLLEGE of CHARLESTON

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

The Department of History at the College of Charleston is pleased to host the Carolinas Regional Phi Alpha Theta Conference on Saturday, February 25, 2023. The conference provides an opportunity for undergraduate and graduate students to present their historical research in a friendly, professional environment.

We invite proposals that address any region, period or historical theme. Students are encouraged to submit proposals related to papers or projects they completed in previous semesters as well as preliminary findings for research from the fall semester. All students of history are welcome to submit proposals, and members of Phi Alpha Theta will be eligible to receive awards for outstanding papers.

Proposals should include the student's name, institution, status (undergraduate or graduate), paper title, and an abstract of no more than 250 words to Dr. Lisa Covert at covertlp@cofc.edu by Friday, December 2. The papers will be selected and organized into panels based on the abstract.

The registration fee for student participants will be $30 and will include breakfast, lunch, and refreshments. Once a student's paper is accepted, they will receive additional information about registration, maps of campus, the conference schedule, and local lodging options. We will also provide this information on our conference website for other conference attendees as it becomes available.

The conference will follow the College of Charleston's current guidelines about masking. You can find more information about our current COVID-19 policies here.

For more information, please contact Dr. Lisa Covert, covertlp@cofc.edu.
